

The Norwegian Nobel Committee

I am a member of the Danish Parliament and thus entitled to nominate.

I noted with great satisfaction the emphasis the committee placed on Alfred Nobel and his testament in the chair's opening words in the Nobel speech on Dec. 10, 2015. Her words referring to Nobel's will and confirming dialogue, negotiations, and disarmament as important aspects of Nobel's peace vision were a long step in the direction of promoting Nobel's specific recipe for preventing new wars by global co-operation on disarmament.

Please let me refer to and repeat last year's nomination of Jan Oberg, Lund, Sweden and mention a few points on achievements «in the last expired year.»

In 2015, Mr. Oberg used the occasion of TFF's 30th Anniversary, to mobilize the foundation's great network for an international seminar with its Associates, webcast live around the world and resulting in 15 videos on international affairs. As part of its ever-growing outreach, it also launched the online magazine «Transnational Affairs" <http://bit.ly/TransnationalAffairs> .

During 2015 TFF focused on Iran and Burund, two main trouble spots and took an early leading role in advocating, already in May, a genuine humanitarian intervention as a response to the tragic developments in Burundi. With its specific knowledge obtained during 12 years of work in the country Mr. Oberg and the TFF was in a special position to contribute to preventing war - Both with its international scope and its preventive character Mr. Oberg's work fulfills main purposes of Nobel's prize.
